On the MTR

This morning Jessie and I went to the Science Museum by MTR. We chatted happily. We saw an old man. He was taking a nap. We saw a woman playing video games. Then the old man woke up. He took his mobile phone out and talked on his phone. His backpack was open so we saw his wallet inside.

Suddenly the woman stole the old man's wallet. We were surprised. Jessie was afraid so I called the police. Finally the two policemen came and arrested the woman. The old man thanked us. He learnt that he should take care of his belongings in public places.
